

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN YOUNG FOREST MANAGEMENT?

Educational Woods Walk
Saturday September 22, 2018
9:00 am. – 1:00 pm.
180 Birch Hill Road Patterson, NY 12563

The State of New York is encouraging landowners in southern NY to think about managing their lands for young forests. Why you ask? Many of our forests in this part of the state today are old, have been hi-graded over a few generations and are nearing maturity. In addition, current research has found certain animal species need young forests to survive, and a lack of this habitat has led to many species disappearing from this area. Thus, by using heavy cutting methods like seed-tree and shelter-wood harvests, we can both restore the economic vitality of our forests and create much-needed wildlife habitat at the same time.

Join us for an educational half day program highlighting what you as a landowner can do to help. The woods walk will show what one landowner has been doing over the last four years to create and maintain this habitat.

Come join us for a fun and educational day! Light refreshments and snacks will be provided. Please bring proper shoes and clothing to walk in the woods.

New York Forest Owners
Association and
NY Tree Farm Present

Professionals from NYS DEC, National Wild Turkey
Federation,
Westchester Land
Trust and Audubon Society

Ask questions and get free advice!

Meet other landowners and share ideas and experiences

TO REGISTER:

Contact
Christopher Prentis
(845) 270-2071 or email
chris@lowerhudsonforestry.com

No fee to attend but registration is required.